 --Committee Reports

AT THE OCTOBER MEETING

In the Cole gallery, meeting amidst the rewards of our juried selections in the Fall Exhibition, discussions centered on the mechanics of hanging and presenting a show. We've had a hard-working group of show chairmen through the '93 seasons.....and out of their experience comes the agreement on the appointment of a permanent hanging committee — one step in perfecting the exhibition-making process.

The Cole/Goodman Gallery Award Exhibition introduced us to many new artists. The awards went heavily to oil painters with the Best-of-Show to SCOTT BRICHER, 1st place to STACY YOUNGS, 2nd place to TIMOTHY MOCKLER, and a 3rd place for a pastel by JESS MOROZ.

We have decided to lengthen this year's Holiday Show starting with the November 20th reception and extending to December 19th with the doors open for a shorter winter-week - Thursdays through Sundays. Lida Fry and Rachel Armstrong will co-chair with the hanging assistance of Bill Babcock, Ginny Cleary, John Hanniford, and Bill and Betty Kusche.

ARTISTS AT WORK

At the Gregory Gallery, 903 Post Rd. in Darien, DOUG SMITH will be showing paintings of Weir farm through October 23rd, Tuesday to Saturday, 10 to 5pm.....With the Connecticut Women Artists, selected as 1 of 32, HELEN SCHINK's work was on view at the Manchester Community College during September.....In a group show of RECENT WORK, BARBARA MAISER is showing oils and watercolors at the Essex Art Association Gallery. With the opening reception on October 14th, 5 to 8pm and continuing thru October 21st, the show is open daily from 10 to 6pm.

Two all-day workshops on light and form are planned by the East Lyme Art League for Friday and Saturday, November 12 and 13, with GREGG KREUTZ of New York. A teacher and cover and feature artist with American Artist Magazine, Kreutz has won awards in all media throughout the country and authored the popular "Problem Solving For Painters", now in its 4th printing. Call CAROLE CLARK at 464-2436 for information on location, fees and other details.
